Mr. Charles Smallwood, of Chicago, was in this city last week on business. Mr. Smallwood formerly lived in this city and worked for J. W. Kelly. He is now connected with a varnish house of Chicago. His old friends in this city were pleased to see him.

The "guess-party" is a new social fad. The ladies send the gentlemen invitations reading: "Party in our set this evening. Guess where and come." It is needless to say that the boys are often late, as they frequently call at a number of houses before finding the right one.—BEVERLY DISPATCH.

Zenas Hallett was born in this county, December 20th, 1820, and has lived in the same ever since. He was married in 1842 to Maria Whetstone, and has been a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church for nearly forty years. He died March 5th, 1891, at the age of 70 years, 2 months and 16 days. His funeral took place Saturday, March 7th, at Mount Ephraim, the services being conducted by the Rev. A. D. McCormick, of this city.

Gen. John W. Fuller died at his home in Toledo, O., Thursday last, aged sixty-four years. He was well and favorably known to many of our citizens. During the late war he commanded the Ohio Brigade, and was promoted to the rank of Brigadier-General for bravery at Corinth, and later on he was again promoted, this time to the rank of Major-General, for like conduct at Atlanta. His death will be sincerely regretted by the soldier boys of this vicinity.

The State Sunday School Convention will be held in this city the first week in June, that being the one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the first Sunday School in the Northwest Territory, by Mrs.

Where Quay Is In It

[Philadelphia Times.]

The world may not give Quay much credit as a self-vindicated artist, but when he poses as authority on tarpon fishing the anglers have to take back seats at themselves.

The medical profession has learned from the public the fact of the prevalence of kidney troubles, because of their inability to provide their patients with a successful treatment. The most noted physicians specify H. C. McCormick, M. D. of Penn Argyle, Pa. writes, "My years experience I find Dr. King's Swamp-Root by far the most successful kidney, liver and bladder medicine ever used in my practice. It cured hundreds of the worst cases of kidney trouble." Sold by Wm. H. Styer.

"Remember, now," said an bride at the altar, "we have been married four times and about once more will convince us we can never live happily together."—CAMDEN GAZETTE.

Alexander's army knew no other relief. The same is true of Dr. Fenner's Relief. It is warranted to
